HNHB Infection Prevention and Control (IPAC) Hub

Haldimand Norfolk Satellite

- Infection prevention and control (IPAC) hubs are being established across the province as a response to the COVID 19 pandemic; focus is on long term infection prevention capacity building
- Haldimand War Memorial Hospital is the lead organization for the IPAC Hub in Haldimand Norfolk and is supported by the HNHB IPAC Hub, Public Health Ontario and Ontario Health (West region)
- Local public health units continue to act as an expert source of IPAC knowledge, and lead management of outbreaks and vaccine rollout. All reportable requirements remain the same
- The IPAC hub and the local public health unit work collaboratively to support the community
- The IPAC Hub supports congregate settings to work towards infection prevention and control best practices in an effort to improve quality of care
- The IPAC hub supports organizations working through preparedness checklists, hands on education, onsite support, updating policies and procedures, mentoring, etc.
